

Ozarks Technical College – David Pope

As requested, here is what I learned about what we do at a college level:

- We use Facebook and Twitter mainly for posting all employment opportunities off of our online job board and other employer announcements regarding job fairs, etc. We personally do not use it for recruitment or retention purposes as much as we use it for helping students find internships and employment opportunities.
- LinkedIn is used minimally.