Every month, the National Convergence Technology writes and shares an IT feature story of a College Convergence Network (CCN) faculty member. These stories are shared on social media by colleagues, students and others who are delighted to read about faculty accomplishments. Please take part in this experience by sharing your story.

Answer the questions below in detail. Share your story! Also, if possible, send pictures of yourself in class teaching or in your office. If you do not have any photos, we can use photos from past CTC events that you have attended. The article will become a blog post and be showcased on CTC’s social media platforms and website.

CCN Feature Questions:

1. What do you teach?
2. How long have you been a teacher?
3. Did you have a job in industry before you became a teacher?
4. What sparked your interest in teaching?
5. What is the secret to successfully teaching IT to students?
6. What’s the biggest challenge teaching IT?
7. Do you have a favorite class to teach? If so, why?
8. What is the best thing about being a teacher?
9. What advice would you give an IT student about graduate and enter the workforce?
10. IT is always changing – how do you keep up with the ongoing evolution of IT?
11. How do you see the IT landscape changing in the next 5 years?
12. Is there anything else we should know but didn’t ask about?